Invitation

Dear Esteemed Colleagues,

Greetings. We extend our heartfelt gratitude to all the dedicated healthcare professionals who tirelessly devote themselves to the well-being of patients amidst the numerous challenges in the medical field. We are pleased to announce that the Airway Management SNUH Workshop, which commenced in 2012, will be celebrating its eleventh annual gathering this year.

In this edition, we have meticulously curated sessions focusing on "Pediatric Airway Assessment and Evaluation" and "Laryngeal Stenosis." Additionally, a panel discussion on "Complications of Tracheostomy" will provide invaluable insights into various conditions and complications that may arise in tracheostomy patients.

Particularly noteworthy is the interdisciplinary session on "Pediatric Airway Disorders and Dysphagia" scheduled for this workshop. Pediatric airway disorders span a broad spectrum, ranging from simple structural issues to complex comorbidities. The experience gained from "Dotori House," established last year at Seoul National University Children's Hospital, extends beyond diagnosis and treatment to encompass a new perspective on the aspect of "management." Dysphagia is also a common pediatric condition that can affect adjacent airways anatomically, leading to potential confusion with other conditions. Comprehensive evaluation is crucial for optimal treatment and management. We hope this workshop will serve as a foundation for integrated patient care.

Following the symposium, an Airway Surgery Hands-on Workshop is scheduled, offering an opportunity to gain hands-on experience with challenging and complex open airway surgical techniques through animal dissections, thus reducing clinical trial and error while facilitating application.

Over the years, this workshop has evolved into a collaborative platform, engaging not only otolaryngologists but also physicians from internal medicine, pediatrics, emergency medicine, thoracic surgery, anesthesiology, pain medicine, rehabilitation medicine, and beyond. We have continuously strived to enhance professionalism and broaden the scope of discussion topics. We earnestly request the active participation and keen interest of esteemed colleagues and specialists to further enrich our clinical practices and patient care.

Thank you for your attention and support.

Sincerely,

June 2024

Professor Seong Keun Kwon
